

./client()

running instructions

./client()

NAME

/client - a client the send tasks to the server

SYNOPSIS

/client [port] [ip_address] < [file1] [file2]

DESCRIPTION

The programme that read number of file ,and send the task to the server

A new log hostname.pid.log will be created to show what client did.

[port] should be a integer in the range between 5000-64000,if a port busy,try another one

[ip_address]

follows instruction in ip(8),in this file is using ipv4 address.

[file]

a file that consist instructions.

EXAMPLE FOR [FILE]

T1 (task instructuin)

T1

S1 (sleep instruction)

T2

....

AUTHOR

Written by Marco Mai

SEEALSO

server.man ip(8)

CREDIT TO

<https://blog.csdn.net/youyudexiaowangzi/article/details/97137413> (webpage is non-english)

<https://liw.fi/manpages/>

<https://unix.stackexchange.com/questions/347032/makefile-looping-files-with-pattern>

<https://unix.stackexchange.com/questions/407126/exporting-man-pages-to-postscript>